The accounts of flying through flak were very impressive and tense. Quite excellent and very detailed The chap who wrote this I can only imagine had a daily journal as the details are impeccable.

Adrian Lyne has directed award winning films such as Fatal Attraction and Flashdance. He is also the author of the comic book series Comixology Thousands of Digital Comics. This is a very put you right there in his mindset and in the thinking of the era. Further book reviews I have written can be accessed at <http://www.chivazgives.com> Chivaz gives many first hand accounts of flying over occupied Europe and Germany. I give this novel a 4 out of 5. Too short but entertaining.
